Complications in GHI Trim Paint Program Evade Easy Solutions

by Mavis Fletcher

At its meeting on Feb. 23, the board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. again considered the trim paint program. In a continuation of the discussion started at the last meeting, the board appears to be moving toward a program of covering most of the trim with aluminum and painting only doors and door frames.

General Manager Ron Colton noted that painting doors and door frames is very difficult, since the doors have to stand open until both coats of paint dry. To make sure the unit is secure, the painters must stay for several hours until the doors can be closed.

There was some discussion of requiring the owner to paint the doors. Colton said that a large percentage of members do paint their doors. However, Director Margaret Hogensen pointed out that the Mutual Ownership Contracts make GHI responsible for maintaining the exteriors of the homes and that painting is clearly a part of that maintenance. This view was supported by Leta Mach, chair of the Audit Committee.

Assistant Manager Steve Wright noted that it is much less expensive for GHI to paint doors if the member is home to watch the unit. The board took no final action but asked the manager to bring back a proposal under which GHI would continue to paint doors and door frames providing the member is present during the work.

Free-standing Homes

Colton suggested that work on the four free-standing homes in GHI go beyond merely painting the trim. He said he had met with the four owners and gotten concurrence on a plan to cover the wood panels above and below the windows with vertical vinyl siding and the soffits, fascia, and window frames with aluminum and vinyl trim.

Colton said the low bid for the work goes beyond routine maintenance, he proposed that $800 of the cost be taken from the larger funds maintenance budget (since that would have been the cost of trim painting which was scheduled to be done this year) and the remainder financed. He estimated that the cost to the four members will be about $28 per month. On a motion by Hogensen, the board adopted this proposal by unanimous vote.

Info Available to Members

The board voted to revise the provisions of the Rules and Regulations which control what information is available to members. The major change spells out that personnel files "including, but not limited to, information which disclosed any individual employee's compensation" are not available to members.

This change grows out of a request by a member to know the amount of the manager's salary. In October 1988 the Finance Committee sent a report to the board requesting that the board get a legal opinion about what financial information is available to members under the Rules and Regulations and what is not. When the board decided to take no action, the Finance Committee sent on the request to the Audit Committee, which also declined, citing an estimated $1000 cost.

Director Nancy Hutchins said she wasn't sure why the board is making "such a big issue" out of the manager's salary and pointed out that most officials' salaries are known. Director Chuck Hess, however, indicated that executive salaries in most private corporations (where stock is not publicly traded) are not made public. He then made a motion to adopt all the proposed revisions to the Rules and Regulations and the motion passed unanimously.

Park and Planning Changes

The board voted to oppose a bill in the state legislature which would remove future planning and park directors of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission from the merit system and make them political appointees. The directors would serve at the pleasure of the Planning Board, which is itself made up of political appointees.

Colton gave the board a letter from County Councilmember Richard J. Castaldi which expressed his belief that "this change would have a devastating effect on planning and land use recommendations." Castaldi further expressed his convictions that "employees (of the Commission) will surely be influenced by the politics which will infiltrate the system. . . . The result will be a complete loss of confidence in the integrity of land use planning."

The board voted to send a letter to representatives in the state legislature making clear the board's opposition to the bill. The vote was unanimous.

By-Laws

The board looked at a number of possible by-laws changes brought up for discussion by management. Among the proposals were: deletion of a by-law which allows a rejected applicant for membership to appeal the decision before the membership at an annual meeting; a change in the age limitation from 21 to 18 for holding office in the cooperative; possible expansion of the instruments GHI is allowed to invest in (currently limited to accounts and securities insured by the federal government or Maryland); reconsideration of a by-law which empowers the membership to set up additional committees to carry out functions of the corporation. In regard to the last item, it was suggested that a more appropriate procedure would be instructions from the membership to the board to set up an additional committee, if the membership decided it was needed.

The board took no action on whether any of the changes should be put on the agenda of the May 17 annual membership meeting. The staff was directed to bring back suggested wording of these changes at the next meeting.

Other Items

President Wayne Williams announced that he had appointed Kenneth Mileski of Crescent Rd. as a member of the Architecture and Environment Committee. Appointment of James F. Maher of Hillside Rd. as chair of the committee had previously been announced.

Colton reported on a fire on Feb. 11 in the 13 Court of Ridge. According to his report, a member's car caught fire near a row of six rental garages. Another car and four of the garages were damaged. Colton estimated the damage to the garages at approximately $10,000.

The next meeting of the board of directors will be held on March 9.

Surplus Food to Be Distributed in City

On Wednesday and Thursday, March 8 and 9, the City will participate in the surplus food program sponsored by Prince Georges County. Butter, flour, honey, cornmeal, canned pork, canned vegetarian beans, dried egg mix and peanut butter will be distributed to eligible persons on these two days from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 25 Crescent Road. All eligible persons may pick up food on either day.

Eligibility requirements are: 1. participation in a public assistance program or in Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) Program (photo ID card), or 2. participation in Food Stamp Program (photo ID card), or 3. participation in Medicaid Program (Medicaid card), or 4. Maryland Energy Assistance Program (letter), or 5. an income that is lower than $8,655 for one person, $11,595 for two people, $14,535 for three people or $17,475 for four people.

Anyone interested in volunteering to help with the distribution or needing additional information should call the city offices at 474-8052.

Advisory Committee Plans Role in Crime Prevention

by Deborah A. Sieff

Where there is crime or even the possibility of crime in Greenbelt, the Crime Prevention Committee (CPC) is on the job brainstorming ways to prevent it.

The committee was set up to recommend ways to improve the city's crime prevention programs, according to Chairperson Deb Foy. The committee's three main areas of concern, determined by the council, include improving public education, encouraging citizen participation, and providing support to the police department and council.

The committee was established Dec. 7, 1981, as a permanent advisory committee to the city council. One of its most successful programs is the Neighborhood Crime Watch Program. In this program, two citizens patrol an area by car, reporting suspicious people or activity to the police by citizens' band radio.

"A little while ago, there was a series of car thefts on Lakecrest Drive. . . . The suspects said they chose Lakecrest Drive because they knew it didn't have a Neighborhood Crime Watch Program," said Pfc. David Buerger, police department public information officer and one of two city police liaisons between the committee and city council. "They knew they had a better chance of getting away with their crime in a non-Crime Watch Neighborhood."

Youth Programs

Another successful activity is the Youth Crime Prevention Program. This features several different programs that teach youths how to protect themselves against crime. The McGruff Club features Officer McGruff, the popular police dog seen in television commercials, who teaches kindergarten through sixth-grade students tips on home and personal safety.

The DARE Program, Drug Abuse Resistance Education, is a nationwide project that started in Los Angeles in 1983. It reached Greenbelt in September 1988 as the first program of its kind in the metropolitan area.

DARE graduated its first class of 160 Greenbelt Center School and Springhill Lake Elementary School students on Jan. 13. The 15-week program, conducted by Buerger, teaches students how to resist peer pressure, how to say 'no' to drugs in ways that don't hurt their self-esteem and how to respond to stressful situations without resorting to drugs.

Buerger said that he does not have statistics on the program's success because the program is new and because of budget constraints. However, he said that even get one child of the 160 to say 'no' to drugs," he said, then "I feel the program has been a success."

Program for Seniors

Several other programs have also been successful. The Senior Citizens' Crime Prevention Program presents programs on personal safety. Tips include having social security and other checks directly deposited in a bank, arranging for escort around town and reporting suspicious behavior to police. The Senior Citizens' Task Force, an advisory task force to the City Council, plans to work more closely with the Senior Citizens Crime Prevention Program, Foy said.

The committee also recommends legislative action at city council's request. One recent recommendation was the support of drug-free school zones legislation which would impose stiffer penalties on persons convicted of selling drugs within a 1000-foot radius of a school zone.

The Drug Awareness Program, run by CPC, features educational programs on drug abuse such as the drug panel discussion setup by Valerie Siegal this past summer.

The committee currently has seven members: chairperson Foy, vice chairperson P.J. Siegel, secretary Sally Robbins, Charles Fuchs, Hal Silvers, Dea Zugby, and Sandy Bowers. The committee normally has nine members; however, two positions have not been filled. Police officers Buerger and Lt. Michael Craddock attend as non-voting liaisons between the committee and city council.

Md. Comptroller Spots Errors in Tax Returns

The State Comptroller's Office has analyzed some of the most common errors found in Maryland income tax returns filed so far this year. Aside from math errors and unnecessary filings, a surprising trend shows some taxpayers filing incorrectly as "dependent taxpayers."

According to the comptroller, the only time a taxpayer should check the box for "dependent taxpayer" on the front of their Maryland return is if they are claimed as a dependent on the federal return of a parent or someone else. Incorrectly filing as a "dependent taxpayer" means the taxpayer will not be allowed their own personal exemption and could end up paying unnecessary tax of $75.

Students who might be filing for a refund of taxes withheld — while being claimed as a dependent on their parents' federal return — should check the box for "dependent taxpayer" filing status and enter "0" for total exemptions in the exemptions section of the Maryland return.

Another important error was improper computation of the local income tax. The local tax must be included on line 62b of either the Maryland long form or short form. It's very important to local governments. The rates for Prince Georges County (50%) and a worksheet are on page seven of the instructions.

All 15 Maryland income tax offices provide free state taxpayer assistance Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Extra hours of state tax help are also available on all state holidays and during certain weekends between now and the April filing deadline. The extra hours are listed inside the front page of the state tax packet.

The addresses and telephone numbers of all state income tax offices are listed on the back of the packet and in most local telephone directories. The statewide toll-free tax assistance is 1-800-MD TAXES.

TAG Program

The Prince Georges County Association for Talented and Gifted Students will present "Summer Daze" on March 8, 7:30 p.m. in Prince Georges Community College's Community Room B. Representatives from many area summer camps and workshops will introduce their programs and answer questions. There is no charge for this service.

The congregation of Mowatt United Methodist Church announces the engagement of their pastor, Daniel Luck Montague III to Angela Dawn Stuber of Woodbridge, Virginia. Angela, the daughter of Ken and Judy Stuber, is a student at Roanoke College. She is spending her junior year studying in Madrid, Spain. They will be married in June 1990.

Soccer Fans Going To Baltimore Blast

Adult volunteers, soccer players and coaches will be carpooling to go see the pros defend their first place standing against second place San Diego Sockers at the Baltimore Civic Center. Anyone else interested in going is cordially invited, as long as tickets last. The deadline to or anyone interested in going can call Jane Cosner at 474-0981.

CITY NOTES

In view of the number of questions received at the city office, staff is preparing a special report on Traffic and Parking, as well as the "Fact Sheet" report requested by council at the last meeting.

Public Works

Building crew member Stephen May has been certified in Basic Electricity by the Electric League of Maryland.

The special details crew assisted the refuse crew and did maintenance work on the gun range. The horticulturist renovated the greenhouse in the rear of the public works facility.

Corrections

Jason Burt was inadvertently omitted from the Greenbelt Middle School's 3.5 or above honor roll that was published in last week's paper. The News Review regrets the error.

In last week's city council story, the legal fees for former Greenbelt police officer David Kress that council agreed to reimburse should have been $1,800. The costs were incurred in Kress's successful bid to obtain a job-related disability retirement.

ROCKET LAUNCH SUNDAY

The Goddard Visitor Center houses exhibits on the nation's space program — "Design your own space craft," experience the sensation of operating a Space Shuttle Manned Maneuvering Unit, view the outside displays featuring a Delta rocket over 100 feet tall.

A Model Rocket Launch will be held Sunday at 1 p.m. Some of the model rockets reach altitudes of more than 1,000 feet and many are models of the launch vehicles that NASA uses today.

The Center is open to the public Wednesday through Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and is free. Entrance to the Center is from Soil Conservation Rd. just north of Greenbelt Rd. For more information call 286-8981.

There will be fast-paced action as Steve's trained adults to do "mix-ins," the art of mixing toppings right into your own ice cream, a trademark of the ice cream parlor. "We have had much success with Steve's at children's workshops, and we thought that adults would enjoy their own workshop," said Heather McArthur, Program Coordinator for Springhill Lake. This workshop will take place March 8 at 7:30. there is no charge. Please call to register at 474-4555. (Adults only please).

Civic Association Forms At Westchester Park

In addition to the normal standing committees, the Westchester Park Civic Association will have strong planning and zoning and legal affairs working groups. Praise for City Staff

Many Greenbelt residents were recently advised by the Maryland Department of Agriculture that their neighborhoods would be treated this spring for gypsy moth caterpillars. The importance of this action to the preservation of our woodlands cannot be understated.

City staff are to be congratulated for their swift and effective action in the face of a potential crisis. Directed by city council to look into the problem only last summer, the staff became quickly educated by talking to experts and contacting representatives of other concerned areas. Then they proceeded to independently document the extent of the city's gypsy moth infestation. This information was used by the city to convince state officials to treat all those areas that were endangered.

At times we have all been frustrated by inaction and indecisiveness on the part of public officials. In this instance, however, we should be particularly appreciative of the responsiveness and quality of service demonstrated by our city employees. Their efforts are indeed commendable.

First Impressions

These are a few impressions of a newcomer to Greenbelt:

The people — a welcoming, friendly, caring bunch, deeply committed to their ideals.

Roosevelt Center — nicely designed, with great paths through the trees to get there, and a very few nice stores, and one nice place to eat. On the down side — upsettingly empty playhouse, lack of book store, office and art supply, eatery with music.

The library — wonderfully located in the center, next to the school, missing a few early reading series we were hoping to continue, helpful staff . . .

Center School — a good experience for both my children and myself (as a volunteer). I'm impressed with a community that has a plan and puts education of the children at its center. It's my feeling that the children's presence at the center has a positive influence on the center's nature, and that the center offers untapped educational opportunities for the students.

The Youth Center — a lot of physical activities resources which could be used to greater advantage.

North End Site — besides being a great place to sled, it has a building which could be affordably repaired and adapted to creative uses.

The performing arts — a sad lack of opportunities for most people to observe and to take part in art, music, dance, theatre.

What's left of the green belt that used to be around Greenbelt — part of what makes Greenbelt a healthy, safe place to raise a family.

Impressed

On February 4 I was one of many interested Greenbelters who took advantage of the tours of Center School and North End School offered by the city and the school. I want to thank Dr. Van Schoonhoven, who conducted the tour of Center School, and a member of the city staff who conducted the tour at Center School, and member of the city staff who conducted the tour at North End, for interesting and enlightening tours.

I was especially impressed by the unfailing courtesy and care which was taken during both tours to be factual and fair in the presentations given — answering all questions carefully to display no partiality.

I for one found these tours to be very useful in helping me make up my mind when answering the questionnaire from the school board.

V. SCHEDULING OF FUTURE MEETINGS

NOTE: THIS IS A PRELIMINARY AGENDA - SUBJECT TO CHANGE

WANTED

The Greenbelt Police are looking for a white man in his early 20's, 5 ft. 8 in., 135 lbs., light brown shoulder-length hair feathered back, mustache as shown in the composite drawing above. He was last seen wearing light-colored jeans, light-colored jean jacket, gray hooded sweatshirt and a maroon baseball cap. He is wanted for breaking and entering the Co-op gas station at 20 Southway on Feb. 19 about 10:15 p.m., according to David Buerger, public information officer for the department.

Anyone having any information about this man or the break-in should contact Det. Pfc. James M. Parker of the Greenbelt Police.

Police believe the man entered the rear of the gas station compound by kicking in a piece of plywood. Once in the compound, he entered the building through an overhead door. The man was in the process of forcing open tool boxes when police units arrived in response to a report of a break-in. The man then fled. A search of the area by officers and K-9, Sonny, did not locate the man. No property was reported missing.

Conservation Group Meets

The Committee to Save the Green Belt will meet Tuesday, March 14 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. in the downstairs conference room in the Greenbelt Library. A letter campaign to support the city in condemnation proceedings for Parcel 1 will be discussed. Also on the agenda are committee recruitment and future activities and goals.

City Loses Two Pioneers

Greenbelt lost two pioneers on Sunday. Ed Trumbule is remembered for his leadership in establishing the Holy Cross Lutheran Church. Robert Dove worked on the Greenbelt Project and was an early police officer here.

Edward Trumbule

Edward Fernand Trumbule died of cancer at his home in Hyattsville on Sunday, February 26.

Born in Pittsburg, Kansas in 1913, Trumbule served in "Roosevelt's Tree Army," the Civilian Conservation Corps, in Minnesota in the early 1930's. He came to Washington in 1937 to begin a 36-year career with the Bureau of Engraving and Printing as a sheet metal worker. He was a member of Union Local 258 and served as Financial Secretary for many years.

His wife and baby had stayed behind in Kansas in 1937 while Trumbule tried out his new job. He soon brought his family east and in 1938 they moved into a new house at 9 Ridge Rd. During those early years Trumbule participated in the organized mens' ball games. His "B-Block" 1939 basketball team won the trophy that is now displayed in the Youth Center. As the family increased from one to four children, the Trumbules moved first to 35 Ridge Rd. and then to 56 Crescent Rd.

The first meeting of the Greenbelt Lutheran Church, later Holy Cross, took place in the Trumbule's living room at 35 Ridge Rd. on Easter Sunday, April 9, 1944. He maintained an active membership in the church, most recently serving as Chairman of the Steeple Committee.

The family left in 1954. In recent years he was active in community beautification efforts, continuing a life-long love of plants and flowers. In 1984 he founded Chapter 113 of the Maryland Free State CCC Alumni Association and served as its president until 1988.

Trumbule is survived by his wife, Adele; daughter, Mary A. Hoffman; sons Gerald H. and David L. Trumbule; three sisters, Francoise Wilbert, Irene Nickel, Joan Lowe, and a brother, Raymond L. Trumbule; 10 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

The funeral service was held Wednesday, March 1, at Holy Cross Lutheran Church with burial at Ft. Lincoln Cemetery in Brentwood. A memorial service was also held Wednesday evening at Holy Cross. Memorial contributions may be made to the Holy Cross Carillon Fund.

Robert T. Dove

Robert F. Dove, a resident of Green Ridge House, died Sunday, February 26.

Dove began work on the Greenbelt project in 1936 driving a dump truck hauling dirt from the lake bottom to the dam. He obtained a permanent job with American Oil for a time in order to qualify to live here. In October 1937 he and his wife, Linda, were among the first 100 families to move into the new homes in "D Block." Dove helped form the Boy Scout Troop 202, the Boys Club and the Protestant church, where he was assistant Sunday school superintendent. He had returned to work in Greenbelt and became one of the town's first police officers, 1940-44. He joined the Army then and when he returned in 1945, service injuries prevented his continuing in police work. He worked for the Disabled American Veterans for the next 20 years. The Doves raised their two boys at 6-M Hillside Rd.

Dove moved to University Hills in 1951 but maintained membership in several Greenbelt organizations and eventually returned to live here. He served three separate terms as president of the Golden Age Club and was appointed by city council to the senior citizen advisory board to help with the planning for Green Ridge House. Dove was also a member of the American Legion Post 136.

He is survived by two sons, William F. and Robert P. Dove, four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

A Mass of Christian Burial was offered at St. Hugh's Catholic Church on Wednesday, March 1. Interment was private. The American Legion also held a service Tuesday evening.

LUTHERAN CHURCH GETS NEW MUSIC DIRECTOR

Charles Heineman, former principal of Capital Lutheran High School in Forestville, will direct the music program at Greenbelt's Holy Cross Lutheran Church. He comes to Holy Cross with a wide background in music in a number of churches since 1969. Capital Lutheran School was closed recently because of the prohibitive cost of removing asbestos contamination.

Heineman received a BA Degree in 1970 from Concordia College in Illinois, and a Master's Degree in Education in 1977 at Bowie State College.

As minister of music, Heineman plans to develop choir, harpsichord, instrumental and other available music talent. He describes his role as "solicitor, developer, and coordinator of music talent."

Heineman is married to the former Marilyn Eberhard, and has two sons, Paul and David. The family lives in New Carrollton.

NEW ENTRY PRESENT ON STATE TAX FORMS

"Help Our Wildlife, Back Our Bay, Check Line 63" is the slogan of a new campaign promoting an opportunity on this year's Maryland State Tax Form. For the first time Marylanders will have a chance to contribute, through their tax form, to the Bay restoration effort and to protection programs for Maryland's threatened and endangered species.

The Chesapeake Bay and Endangered Species Fund will be the focus of a media campaign sponsored by the Chesapeake Bay Trust and the Department of Natural Resources Forest, Park and Wildlife Service joint beneficiaries of the fund.

Recreation Review

1989 Spring Day Camp

The Recreation Department's Spring Day Camp for grades K-6 offers sports, crafts, outdoor activities and special events. For information, call the business office, Monday - Friday, 9 - 5, at 474-6878.

Kite Flying

The March winds will soon be a-blowing so young and old should start building kites for the Rec. Dept.'s annual kite flying contest to be held on Sunday, March 19 on Braden Field.

Volleyball/Competitive

Co-recreational competitive volleyball is played at the Center School Monday evenings from 6:30 - 10:30. Everyone 16 years and over is welcome.

Marylanders will be asked to check line 63 on the tax form and then write in a donation of their choice. The donation will be deducted from their refund or added to their tax payment.

In approving the check-off opportunity, Maryland's public officials recognized the importance of the Chesapeake Bay as the State's greatest natural resource. They also recognized that Maryland has an obligation to future generations to work to protect the all-too-large number of threatened and endangered plants and animals within its borders.

Hours Added for Vehicle Emissions Inspection

Since January 1, the vehicle emissions inspection program (VEIP) of the Md. Motor Vehicle Administration has been open Monday through Friday 8 a.m. - 6 p.m. and Saturdays 8 a.m. until noon. The expanded hours have reduced wait times.

Vehicles with odd last numbers (1-3-4-7-9) in their vehicle identification number will receive emissions test notices during 1989. The fee has been reduced, yet the inspection is much more comprehensive. The time of the test will not take any longer than in past years. The best time for testing is mid-week early in the month. For further information contact: MDOT - Hannah Romney Whitney (301) 859-7300, or MVA - Edward D. Seidel (301) 768-7387.

Smoke Free Project At SHL Elementary

Springhill Lake Elementary School is among forty-four Prince Georges County public elementary schools which are preparing to have their schools designated as Smoke-Free Class of 2000. Children who entered first grade in 1988 will be given educational materials about smoking prevention. It is hoped that these children, the future high school graduates of the class of 2000, will become ambassadors for a smoke-free society.

In the spring of 1989 smoke-free kits will be distributed to teachers who will be encouraged to use them in the classroom as well as to assist in informing parents about the project.

The program is sponsored by the American Cancer Society-Maryland Division, Inc., the American Heart Association-Maryland Affiliate, Inc. and the American Lung Association of Maryland, Inc.

"To Your Smile"

by

Ray Vidal, D.D.S.

What Is The Dentist's Role In Cancer Detection?

Your dentist is in a unique position, being the one health professional who generally sees you on a regular basis. In this way he can more readily spot certain tell-tale changes in general health or appearance.

More specifically, your dentist is constantly on the lookout for potential cancer-causing conditions in and around the mouth. Both hard and soft structures of the head and neck are evaluated. Sometimes you may be referred to an oral surgeon or pathologist for follow-up of a suspicious area. During that visit a biopsy is usually taken to make a proper diagnosis. The basic point to remember is that all cancers are more responsive to treatment if diagnosed early.

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

While on patrol on Feb. 21, Officer Carl Schinner found a door pried open at the North End School building. Pfc. James Donovan and K-9, Bear, searched the interior, but found no one. The walls inside the building had been vandalized. No property was reported missing.

Thefts

A 24-year-old resident, posing as a Greenbelt Homes workman, took 45 feet of copper gutters from the garage roof in the 4 court of Crescent Rd. and put them into a vehicle. The gutters were bent and the roof of the garages was damaged. Responding on Feb. 23 to a call, Officer Thomas Moreland arrested the man, charging him with theft and malicious destruction of property. He was held in lieu of $2,500 bond pending trial.

Pfc. Matthew Carr arrested an 18-year-old nonresident after the man attempted to leave the Burlington Coat Factory with merchandise concealed in bags. A security guard was alerted when the man set off an anti-theft alarm. The man was held in lieu of a $1,000 bond pending trial.

Officers searched the Radio Shack store in Greenway Center on Feb. 19 after the front window of the store was found smashed out. Sgt. James Love and K-9 Sonny found the store empty. A cellular phone was reported stolen.

Currency and checks were reported stolen from an office suite in the 7400 block of Greenway Center Dr. on Feb. 21.

Two VCR's were reported stolen on Feb. 22 from Best Products at Beltway Plaza.

An apartment in the 9100 block of Springhill Lane was entered on Feb. 18 during the afternoon by punching out the lock on the front door and also breaking a kitchen window. No property was reported stolen.

A townhouse in the 7800 block of Somerset Court was broken into on Feb. 17. Entry was gained by breaking a basement level window. Assorted jewelry and a 9 mm. semi-automatic handgun

Kincaid Coakley Celebrates 10th

Kincaid Coakley & Company, Chartered, a certified public accounting firm specializing in accounting and tax services for small to medium-sized businesses, celebrated its 10th Anniversary recently with plans for further expansion of services and growth in its professional staff.

The company was formed in 1978 by the merger of the individual accounting practices of native Washingtonians John B. Kincaid and Donald M. Coakley, Jr. Kincaid Coakley & Company's offices are located at 8957-P Edmonston Road.

The company will celebrate its 10th Anniversary by establishing an Annual Kincaid Coakley and Company Gifting Program for the accounting departments at the University of Maryland and American University, the alma maters of the partners.

Since it was co-founded by John Kincaid and Donald Coakley 10 years ago, the company has grown from a staff of three to 10 professionals, paraprofessionals and support staff. The firm represents more than 600 clients throughout the Metropolitan Washington area, across the country, and around the world.

"We offer the usual wide range of tax, auditing and accounting services that you'd expect from a CPA firm," said Kincaid, "and we also handle estate, trust and gift tax issues which is unusual for a firm of our size."

Coakley said the company also offers Management Consulting Services that include acquisitions, contract negotiations, bank financing and related assignments. The company, he said, will soon expand these services.

Greenbelt CARES

Judye Hering attended a meeting with the Jewish Family Services, Inc. to share information regarding vocational training and vocational opportunities for high school students.

Wendy Wexler and Paul Fischetti began a new five week session of the teen discussion group which will meet Wednesdays from 4:15-5:15 at Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Carol Leventhal represented Greenbelt at the Jan. 25 meeting of the Anti-Drug Abuse Intervention, Treatment and Rehabilitation Committee, held at the Council of Governments' offices in Washington, D.C.

Judye Hering attended a meeting of the Maryland Student Alliance on Jan. 26. The purpose of the meeting was to introduce the concept of a program that would give students high school credit for volunteer work. The Alliance is looking for various ideas, programs and locations for students to volunteer. High Point High, one of the schools who sends referrals to CARES' tutoring program, is one of six schools selected for the program. CARES will be able to utilize the volunteers in their tutoring program, the job bank program and the pre-employment training program.

An average of 18 families a week participated in regular, scheduled counseling during January. Forty-seven individuals were involved, 41% of them children and youth under 18 years of age. Weekly tutoring sessions in reading, math and English were provided to 33 students.

City Wins Most Prestigious Budget Presentation Award

The City of Greenbelt has received the Distinguished Budget Presentation Award from the Government Finance Officers Association of the U.S. and Canada (GFOA). This award is the highest form of recognition in governmental budgeting, and since 1984 has been granted to only 300 governmental entities nationwide.

Greenbelt has now received this award for the last five years.

To compete, governments submit their annual budget document for review by a panel of independent budget experts. To win the award, the document must be rated as proficient in all of four categories: As a policy document, as an operation guide, as a financial plan and as a communications device.

GFOA has described the attainment of the award by Greenbelt as a significant accomplishment by the management and elected officials of the city.

Free Advice Column (Worth Every Penny)

by G. B. Eenbelt, M. D.

Dear Doc:
I just got back from a trip to Disney World and I want to know: Why can't Greenbelt be run like that—clean, green, and full of entertainment?

Mickey Mouse Freak

Dear Freak:
We're closer than you think. We've got a lake, fireworks (mostly on July 4 but sometimes at city council and GHI meetings) Main Street (well, Centerway), and Adventureland (have you been at the intersection of Kenilworth and Greenbelt Road lately?). Spaceship Earth is right down the road, and as for Tomorrowland, I'm afraid that's where you'll have to use your imagination: it's where and when Roosevelt Mall gets the face lift.

Listening To Your Body's Language

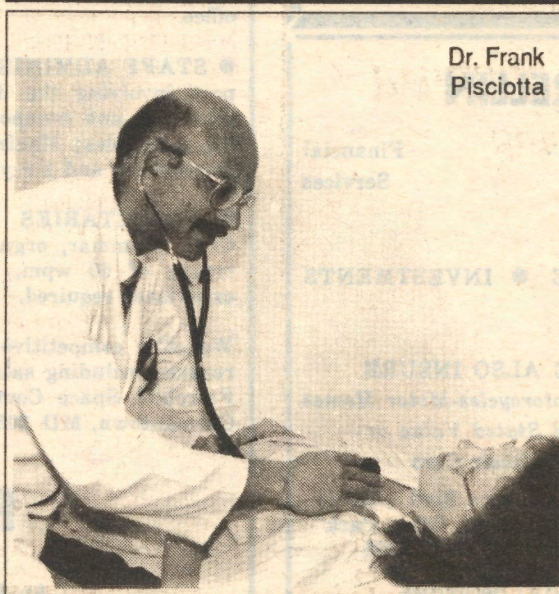

The human body is often likened to a machine, but there is no other machine that functions so effectively and efficiently. Even the seemingly simple act of eating requires enormous coordination of systems within. When something goes wrong, the body often sends out signals to warn us.

According to Dr. Frank Pisciotta, symptoms are the body's way of telling us that something needs attention. He states, "There are many signs that can give one a head start on potentially serious medical problems. The key is to be aware of what your body is trying to tell you."

"Common-sense preventive measures are extremely important to one's health. Eat slowly and chew your food well. Have plenty of high-fiber foods in your diet, drink alcohol only in moderation, don't smoke cigarettes and be aware of changes. If you have doubts, don't take chances. See your doctor. Ignoring symptoms for long periods of time may wind up to be very costly in terms of your health. Listen when your body talks to you."
